

I am

Clever as a fox,
As radiant as the stars.

A geek,
devouring graphic novels and Sci-fi
Passionate about basketball and Theatre,
Playing the part becoming a different part of me through every costume change.
Each costume, each game, a different part of me is reveled.

Yet, I am jagged around the edges,
Like the inside of a stone wall.
every edge is its own tiny mountain, beautiful in its own way.
Every quirk shoots out,
Nothing can smooth me down.

Not your run-of-the-mill girl, but I am Mack, McAnear, Kenzie, Maddie, Macintosh, Mackenzie.
A water mill rotating, each orbit is a new me, a different side of me.
Diverse, and I love that.

I am.
