

Entity

I am an everyone
For no one
For I have no face to call my own.

I am there for those who are lonely
Seek company and someone to talk to.

For the down trodden and broken
I accept them as they are.
For I have no face
Nothing to show disgust or anger.

It has its benefits.
I have many friends,
People who consider me
Their closest confidant.

But I am also close with no one
For I have no face
No name
No body.
