

Inktober 2022

Before day one I had ideas.
I plotted out my images five days
at a time.

Searching, saving, tracing
On day one I was half-way through Starting on image twenty I continued to search, save and trace my ideas into existence.

It was day ten
and I had finished thirty-one drawings.
It's now day twenty-five and I've already posted tempting and set up the post for day twenty-six.

Some have been harder than others
to imagine, draw, bring to life.
But I'm proud of my ability to draw thirty-one images whether they be traced or original.
