

Less than a Year

Less than a year left
to find a full-time job
with health insurance,
or else cheap out.

Living dirt cheap
having spent all my money
making sure I have insurance.

It's not free here.
Then dropped by all my doctors
just as I was getting the hang of it.

Land a full-time job,
then they find some reason
to drop me.

My dream job would involve an office
but I don't want to become stiff.
I want to wear jeans,
a t-shirt and blazer.

But that's the anxiety talking.
