

Be Unfine

Please, stop telling me that you are okay.
You are not, you don't have to lie to me
Be as unfine as you want, become free.
You don't need to keep your emotions at bay.
You can scream and rage all you want today
The world is not always rainbows and glee.
There are moments when life can be crappy.
Take some time away, then come back and slay!

From time to time the sky catches fire
Don't let that rattle your resolve or mind
You are stronger than this case requires.
Come step forward and leave it all behind.
Stand up when life knocks you down, aim higher!
Find your rhythm and get back to the grind.

