

Be Ready

Be brave, with your stance held firm.
Do not let them get in your head.
Find peace and strength in the quietness before the storm.

The wind whispers of change
calling the brave, to answer the challenge.
When the time comes, be ready.

Let your doubts slip away,
beneath the surface of your strength.
Do not let fear control you
For you are in charge of yourself,
your feelings and future.

Nothing can stand in the way
of you and the adventure that awaits.
Let your determination take shape
with each heartbeat.
When the time comes, rise up and fight.
