

Her

Inspired by Afghan Girl: National Geographic cover

Her eyes are what draws you in
Brilliant strong eyes
They are filled with desires
Hope
Dreams
Fears

The eyes are the window to the soul
But her eyes have barriers
Not letting anyone in
Not trusting many people

Her face smooth but powerful
Obviously liking the outdoors
Surrounded by nature's finest work
Using her surrounding as protection from the outside world

She could be an Amazon warrior.
She has the intensity,
The strong face.

She is the focal point of what the photographer sees
Of what they want us to see.
Her eyes that is what you are drawn to
Those eyes that are filled with ambition
Filled with the scares of the things she has witnessed.
